

A DEADLY DESIGN

You are invited to Dinner to celebrate the life of the late Francesca Ann Baldini

The Queen of High Fashion, Francesca Baldini, created a Spring collection to die for. Unfortunately, she was found laying in a pool of her own blood at her elegant FAB couture house. Around her are the slashed remains of her Spring collection, never to see the runway. Accessorizing the scene is a footprint in blood near her head. You and others are woven into the fabric of this murder. As the seams of the plot are stitched together, it becomes clear that none of you are above reproach. This is a tale of high society and high fashion. It will seduce you into the seamy side with a deadly combination of violence and vogue.
