

BULLETS 'N' BARBECUE

TOWN OF DRYGULCH

Western Frontier, 1872

You are invited to mosey on over to the Paradise Saloon for some western hospitality and a feed of good grub.

It is the wild west in the year 1872. On a clear July morning, dawn is just breaking over the tiny frontier town of Drygulch when a single gunshot rings out. The townsfolk rush to the scene and are horrified to find their sheriff, Take Noble, sprawled in the dust, dead from a gunshot wound. He was bushwhacked from behind and you are a suspect.
